Democratic Victory Clubs.

Acting on the theory that contributions for the Presidential campaign of 1924 should be in small amounts and from as many persons as possible, rather than in large sums from a comparatively few, the Democratic National Committee has started a nation-wide drive to organize Victory Clubs of twenty members each, every one of whom is expected to send in $5 at once, and an equal amount on Jan. 1 next. It is hoped to raise $1,000,000 in this way.

In 5,000 or more communities all over the United States chairmen will be appointed to select twenty men or women who will form the local "National Democratic Club." Already the drive has begun in Delaware, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, Georgia, Florida and the two Carolinas, and within a few days it will be extended to every State in the Union. The plan is simple, for all the prospective chairmen have to do is to acknowledge the letter of appointment sent by the committee and then set out to obtain the twenty necessary members for the Victory Club.

In South Carolina, however, the organization will be unique, for in that southern stronghold no men will be asked to serve as chairmen. Instead, the committee has sent letters to representative women in every community asking that they assume this responsibility. For instance, Mrs. William D. Meiton, wife of the President of the University of South Carolina, has been asked to serve as head of the Victory Club in Columbia.

Through the Victory Clubs, the Democratic National Committee counts on being able to "hand over" to the 1924 nominee a full-fledged live-wire organization of from 75,000 to 100,000 national workers. It was said at headquarters.

"This done, we're just bound to win in 1924," it was added.

"The greatest army of organized Democrats ever mobilized will be under arms to win in 1924," the committee said, in announcing the plan. "Furthermore, the idea that all Democrats have had for years—that the people's party will be financed by the people—will have become an established fact. An organization such as this will enable the national committee to function continuously on a business-like basis and continue its great work of educating the young minds in the way of Democracy."

The Victory Clubs will not be confined to cities and towns but will be organized also in counties.

The Democratic National Committee has sent a letter to an Adams county Democrat and the formation of an Adams County Democratic Victory Club will shortly be completed.

Fine Work of Fire Co. in County.

The Gettysburg Fire Company gave a fine account of themselves when a call came for them to go to a farm of H. E. Riddlemoser near McKnightstown and in 38 minutes after the fire started in the dwelling house the company was throwing water from a nearby creek on the burning buildings. The tenant house on farm was occupied by Edward Kroushaner and family. Mrs. Kroushaner was ill in bed and her husband carried her out and got out the five children, but could not save the contents of house. The flames were being driven toward the barn and straw stack but the firemen quickly got the flames under control. The house was a total loss, estimated at $3500 and tenants' loss is about $1000, both only partially covered by insurance. H. E. Riddlemoser was so pleased with the work of the firemen that he handed them a check for $100 before they left the grounds, and this was double the amount the company recently fixed for a fire more than three miles distant.

The Gettysburg Fire Company recently received a check for $25 from Harris Brothers in appreciation of their services at their Baltimore St. building when a blow torch started a fire while repairs were going on.

THE SALOONS HAVE GONE

BY THE PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT LAW PASSED BY LEGISLATURE.

Pennsylvania is Expected to Live Up to the Requirements of the 18th Amendment.

The Prohibition Enforcement law has arrived, having passed the House on Wednesday afternoon by the close vote of 107 to 100. The constitutional majority required 105 votes so that the bill became a law by the small majority of two. The same bill had passed the Senate and Governor Pinchot signed the act making it law Wednesday evening.

The saloon has been divorced from the laws of the State. The saloon is now outlawed. The Brooks high license act, which was passed in 1887 and still gave control to the saloons of the sale of one half of one percent alcoholic drinks has been discarded and the Woner Act which legalized the saloon after the 18th Amendment to the U. S. constitution had been made is no more.

When the Prohibition Enforcement Act was before the House on Wednesday a flood of speech making broke loose. The chief argument of the wets opposing the law was in the language of one of the speakers:

"It has cost millions to enforce, it has cost hundreds of thousands of lives, it has corrupted honorable men and women into bootleggers, bribers and law breakers. It is teaching the people to drink secretly behind closed doors and is aiding the sale of narcotic drugs so that we are rapidly becoming a 'dope nation'."

It was further argued that without licensed places the sale of alcoholic beverages would go on beside your churches, homes, schools, in grocery stores, cigar stores and all sorts of stores.

On the dry side the position was that the Eighteenth Amendment is in the constitution to stay and that there is nothing unconstitutional in the bill. We have had search and seizure since 1860. The real opposition to the measure is the fact saloonkeepers can't make any profit selling near-beer. I know we are weak-kneed and spineless in punishing bootleggers and violators of the law. What we want to do is pass this bill and give them both barrels. The eyes of the country are on this House to-day. It is waiting to see if we in Pennsylvania stand for law enforcement; if we are going to stop making a joke of the measure; if we are going to really enforce the law."

Miss Margaret Mackinney, a member of the House from Butler county, attacked the saloons as follows:

"The woman," she said, "has suffered more from the saloon than any other element of society. The family purse has been depleted by the corner saloon. This has deprived her of natural heritages because of the legalized liquor traffic."

"I have heard the people of this country were not prepared for the Eighteenth Amendment. The fact is the mothers of America have been fighting for abolition of the saloon for more than a hundred years."

"Two years ago we asked legislation enforcing the amendment. We asked for bread and you gave us a stone. You legalized the saloon and made Pennsylvania a happy hunting ground of the pirate of modern days, the bootlegger."

"Women then entered the campaign and used their ballots in the interest of law enforcement. We supported candidates pledged to law enforcement. Which will you choose to-day, the home or the saloon; the children or the bootlegger?"

The vote on the enforcement bill had its own story. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh were against the bill, the former giving only two votes for and the latter eleven votes for, so that the counties put the bill through over the cities. Of the 107 votes for the bill, 80 Republicans were for it and 18 Democrats, while opposed to the bill were 79 Republicans and 23 Democrats. The eight women members of the House divided 5 for the bill and 3 against.

Powell Says Germans Plot Monarchy

All American officers of the American Legion have been warned by General W. Powell, national director of the Americanism Commission of the Legion, to be ready to combat any attempt of propagandists to reintroduce hyperbolicism into the United States. That the recent address of Von Hindenberg is a portion of a great movement of the German propagandists which now assumed the aspects of a national campaign to interest the public in the pro-German side, is the declaration of Mr. Powell. He stated that the most effective weapon with which to fight this insidious attempt to make Americans forget is the use of Americanism so that the people will resent all foreign efforts at influence.

"There are 30,000 Americans buried in France" who fell in breaking the Hindenburg Line in 1918. The American people will not forget this in reading Von Hindenberg's new threats of war," Mr. Powell said.

That a revolution for the restoration of the Hohenzollern monarchy is impending, is the belief of Mr. Powell. He asserts that Von Hindenburg who had been selected as leader of the movement, had attempted to open his campaign by calling for war with France in his recent address to the German Veterans' League.

"Germany is to-day in better position for war than the world realizes," said Mr. Powell, "but German propaganda is being exerted to bring the American people to believe otherwise" he added, in repeating his warning.

FARM TOPICS

The Garden Soil.

The backward gardener, after he has planned his lay-out and decided upon what he is going to raise, must turn his attention to the nature and preparation of the soil. He wants to get the best possible results for his time and effort, and nothing more than a properly fertilized and conditioned seed bed, according to W. B. Nissley, vegetable gardening extension specialist at the Pennsylvania State College.

A heavy, sticky soil is not the best for vegetable growing. This kind of soil should receive a good application of straw manure in the fall, but if that was not attended to last fall, coal ashes will help now. Cover the ground with an inch or two of ashes, and in plowing or spading try to mix them thoroughly with the soil. There is little or no fertilizer value in coal ashes and it is not well to continue this practice more than a few years.

Light, sandy soils should be plowed or spaded as early in the spring as possible so the soil will have a chance to settle before planting. The usual test to determine time of spading is to squeeze together a handful and if the soil adheres in a ball it is too wet for working.

If the soil is smoothened and pulverized well before planting the work of caring for the crops will be greatly lessened and better crops will be secured. It is not sufficient that the land be smooth on top, but the pulverizing process should extend as deep as the spading or plowing.

Marksmen are interested in a "shoot" to be held at McSherrystown on Easter Monday. Five events of twenty targets each have been arranged with entrance fees of 50c each and optional sweeps of 50c each, permitting a shooter to enter as many events as he chooses. In addition the McSherrystown Club under whose auspices it will be held, will award special prizes of $15. The club has just installed the latest improved Western trap. The event will be held rain or shine.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING.
But Not So Bad if You Know How to Reach the Cause.

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Gettysburg people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbors.

Mrs. Chas. Kappes, 229 N. Stratton St., Gettysburg, says: "I was feeling quite badly with kidney trouble. There was a heavy pain in the small of my back that never let up during the day. In the morning when I got up I felt stiff and sore and this made it hard for me to get around. Dizziness came on very often and tiny spots blurred my sight. My kidneys were weak and as I had known of Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time, I decided to try them. I got some from the People's Drug Store, and they rid me of the backaches and did away with the other signs of kidney trouble."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Kappes had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

With Easter almost here the question of what to wear becomes an imperative one. Many people have prepared for this day of displaying the latest creations of Dame Fashion, but we know that there are still many that are not fully prepared to step forth on Easter in an entirely new outfit.

We are prepared to show you a line of merchandise for Easter that will startle you. There is nothing that we have overlooked. Every detail of mid-lady's attire has been thought of. Every type of woman has been considered in buying. And above all we have given a serious thought to your pocketbook. Every article is priced on the basis of a small margin and our range of prices will fit every one and value will be given for every cent spent in our store.

First Comes the Lingerie and Hose

In dressing for the fashion parade your first thought should be of your lingerie and hose. If you are not wearing dainty underthings you will not feel dressed no matter what your gown may be. So consider first the wonderful underwear you can buy in silk, nainsook, batiste, etc., at a figure no higher than you care to pay.

And what of your hose supply? Will you have a pair of lovely silk hose, free of runners and other defects, to go with your gown? If you have not be sure to call at our hosiery department early and get a full supply. We have all the new Spring shades as well as the standard ones that will go with anything.

The Corset Makes the Gown

Without a well fitting corset your gown will not give the effect that you have the right to expect of it. Consult our corset department and let our experienced fitters show you just what you need to get the correct silhouette.

And Now the Gown

Perhaps it will be hard to decide just what kind of a dress you will need for the Easter Promenade. On the other hand perhaps you have already decided just what you want. In either case we can serve you well. Our stock includes dresses fashioned out of all the latest weaves in silk as well as woolen dresses that are most suitable for early Spring wear without a coat. We are proud of our stock of dresses and are anxious to have you see it.

A Coat for Spring is Most Suitable

There are many times during the Spring and Summer that you just must have a coat in order to be comfortable. If Easter morning is cool as it is very likely to be, you will still be able to join the Easter throng in something new. Our coats are all tailored by the best manufacturers of the country and we are able to show you coats in all the new cloths and we can fit anyone from the Junior Misses to the stout size 49.

Give a Suit Serious Thought

For traveling, motoring, sport and many other uses there is nothing that can take the place of a suit. As for Easter a suit will be just the thing. Cool or warm you will be prepared. Let us show you our suits and convince you that for what ever purpose you are considering a suit we have one for that purpose.
